

Sarah Paddick

Architect | B Arch St, B Arch Hons, AIA

Trained in Architecture at the University of Adelaide, Sarah has been a director in her own Architecture firm since 1993. Prior to establishing Totalspace Design, she was contracted to the Public Buildings Department as a Minor Works Project Architect. Her area of expertise is Correctional Architecture, a unique field that has led to her recent association with ctg Security Matrix, as Architect/Project Manager. Over the past 13 years, Sarah has been part of the team responsible for major upgrades of 6 of South Australia's prison control rooms, including the award winning Mt Gambier Prison Control Room Building.

Qualifications

- Bachelor of Architecture (Hons) University of South Australia 1991
- Registered Architect 1994 Member of RAIA 1996
- Part time tutor Adelaide University Architecture Dept 1996

Experience

- Yatala Labour Prison – New Control Room, B-Division Bunker, Video Conferencing Facility, SA
- Adelaide Womens Prison – New Control Room, New Dormitories, Education Centre, Medical Centre, Dining Room, SA
- Mobilong Medium Security Prison – Control Room, Gatehouse Reception, SA
- Adelaide Remand Centre – Control Room, Movement Control, Video Conferencing Facility, SA
- Port Augusta Prison – New Control Room, Education Centre, Gatehouse, SA
- Mount Gambier Prison – New Control Room, SA
(Winner of Best New Security Installation ASIAL 2005)
- ART SA Control Room, SA
- Cadell Training Centre Control Room, SA
- Magill Youth Training Centre Control Room, SA
- Alexander Maconochie Centre Control Room, ACT
- Bimberi Youth Justice Centre Main Security Console and Monitor Stack, ACT

Major Award Winner

- 2005 Australian Security Industry Awards for Excellence 'Major Installation Award Principal Security Architect and Project Manager'
- Catherine Helen Spence Memorial Scholarship Recipient 2010 – Research into Mother and Baby Accommodation in Secure Facilities